From the 10 requirements in the Badge Book, I will do / am doing / *have done the following six:

Use this sheet to let your leader know what Badge you plan to do. Keep a copy for yourself and let your leader know when you have completed the Badge requirements. There are no substitutions, but some Badges are less specific than others.

Activities you do outside Girl Scouts can earn you a Junior Badge, however, the project or activity you do cannot be used on two different badges like it did in Brownies. Use the introduction in the Badge Book to help you along with what is required. Fun is the most important part of earning a badge. Don't let it become a competition with other girls, and if you start it and don't like it, or it is too hard, or it just isn't what you expected, just flip through the Badge Book and pick another. You can always come back to it later if you want. Badges can be done over ____ years, so you have until Bridging 20__!

only activities since you bridged to Juniors*
